

"Blatant Political Corruption": The Rot In America's Obama-Biden Democracy Explained In Under 1000 Words

Mon, 26 Jun 2023 10:04:37, swmof88, [post_tag: blatant-political-corruption-the-rot-in-americas-obama-biden-democracy-explained-in-under-1000-words, category: news]

"Blatant Political Corruption": The Rot In America's Obama-Biden Democracy Explained In Under 1000 Words

BY TYLER DURDEN

- Joe Biden Says He Wants To Crack Down On 'Privilege' In Education...He Once Called UPenn's President To Get His Granddaughter In

THE ONLY REASON THE U.S. DEPT OF ENERGY EXISTS IS TO PAY OFF OBAMA-BIDEN POLITICAL FINANCIERS WITH QUID PRO QUO AND STOCK MARKET KICK-BACKS

Over the last several weeks and months, a deluge of damning breadcrumbs have been revealed by various whistleblowers, congressional investigators, and investigative reporters - the entirety of which has been a shotgun blast of information overload.

When put together, they paint a picture of such shocking corruption, that one can only conclude that the period we've lived through, between the 2020 US election, the funding, origins, and coverup of the Covid-19 pandemic, and the overt corruption of the Biden family, one can only conclude that we're living through one of the worst, if not the worst, periods of political scandals and institutional rot in American history.

Making sense the current state of affairs is journalist Tom Elliott, founder of Grabien, who has assembled what may be the world's most perfect tweet on how Joe Biden owes his 2020 election victory to "blatant political corruption."

The more we learn about the 2020 election, the more undeniable it becomes that Biden owes his "victory" to blatant political corruption. To wit:

1) An IRS probe into the Bidens money laundering payments from hostile nations — the normal outcome of which would have ended his... pic.twitter.com/bHu49qGUST

— Tom Elliott (@tomselliott) June 24, 2023

The more we learn about the 2020 election, the more undeniable it becomes that Biden owes his "victory" to blatant political corruption. To wit:

1) An IRS probe into the Bidens money laundering payments from hostile nations — the normal outcome of which would have ended his candidacy — was instead given a stand-down order

2) The FBI & IRS wanted to search Biden's house in September 2020 but were given a stand down order.

3) The @FBI authenticated Hunter's laptop a year before the NYPost first reported on its contents

4) Rather than use the laptop's voluminous documentation of myriad felonies to initiate criminal investigations, the FBI hatched a plot to warn social media companies of an imminent "hack & leak" operation of what they heavily suggested was Russian disinformation

5) The FBI used its 2016 Russia collusion probe — which the Durham probe has since proven was essentially an extension of the Clinton campaign — to rationalize its meddling in the 2020 election.

6) The FBI also conducted an influence operation with various reporters at major newspapers to convince them that forthcoming damaging reporting about Biden that they knew was true was in fact not

7) The FBI was spying on Giuliani when he shared the laptop's contents with the NYPost

8) When the FBI told Twitter & Facebook a Russian disinformation campaign was coming, they had already concluded Russia wasn't trying to game the election

9) In their attempt to corroborate their own rumor of Russian electoral influence, the FBI became aggressive with its demands for user data from Twitter, eventually getting shutdown for seeking users' private info without a warrant

10) Nonetheless, in the preceding years, the FBI established a beachhead inside Twitter, with an operations center of former agents who communicated via their own dedicated slack channel. These ex-agents included Jim Baker, the FBI's former top counsel who played a central role in the FBI's Trump/Russia scam, as well as Comey's former chief of staff, Dawn Burton, who started the FBI's Russia collusion probe.

11) The CIA, in collusion with the Biden campaign, seeded disinformation claiming the laptop was itself Russian disinformation. The major media used this as a pretext to avoid reporting on its contents and instead attack those who were.

12) The FBI also arranged a meeting with Sens. Grassley & Johnson about supposed Russian disinformation & Hunter Biden.

13) The FBI then used this briefing with the senators to justify quashing their own agents' probe into the Bidens' corruption.

14) When the story broke mere weeks before the election — one that polling later indicated would have altered enough Democrat votes to send Trump to a second term — Twitter & Facebook orchestrated an unprecedented & anti-democratic mass censorship campaign.

15) When Twitter initially resisted censoring the story, it was Jim Baker who convinced them to do so (despite the FBI having known for a year the information was true).

16) In December 2020, after the operation's success and Biden's "victory," the FBI agents working at & with Twitter celebrated the outcome.

17) The FBI subsequently paid Twitter $3.5 million for the staff hours expended on their influence operations.

18) At the time Trump was being impeached for asking Ukraine to investigate Biden's alleged corruption in Ukraine, the FBI & IRS already knew the Bidens had indeed laundered more than $10 million from Burisma, via fake companies and dozens of bank accounts, while at the same time VP Biden had used U.S. aid as leverage in getting the Ukrainian prosecutor investigating Burisma fired.

P.S. And that's to say nothing of Democrats orchestrating a state-by-state campaign to change voting rules to enable the widespread adoption of voting boxes ... Left-wing activist groups, funded in part by Facebook, facilitated the exploitation of these drop-off boxes on behalf of the Democratic Party. That part may not have been illegal since they simply changed the rules, but it's especially shady since it was done alongside federal health agencies then-knowingly overstating the threat of Covid, which was used as the rationale for the change of rules in the first place.

P.P.S. And this is just what we know despite the feds' best efforts. Imagine how much we don't.

* * *

- Meta Promotes Former CIA Agent To 'Head Of Election Policies' After Spearheading 2020 'Misinformation' Team
- Tucker On Twitter Episode 7: The War For Democracy Enables Dictatorship

And some reactions:

So basically the FBI has become the goon squad for the central banking system that controls all of our government right now.

— Mindy Robinson 987654321987654321987654321987654321 (@iheartmindy) June 24, 2023

And no one will ever do anything.

— Thomas Paradis (@TPDP_01) June 24, 2023

And Durham did nothing.

— 0.0 (@wiseguy702) June 24, 2023

19) often overlooked but the Mueller probe and Russia hoax was used to take Dems over the finish line and win the House in the 2018 midterms. This gave Schiff the power and ability to start House investigations/impeachments

— Jim Muessig (@JimMuessig) June 24, 2023

So, the next time you hear a Democrat decrying Republican efforts to dismantle democracy with their voter ID laws, or ending harvesting, consider the real threat to American democracy from the deep state. Their actions all sound very 'insurrection-y' to us.

One could be forgiven for considering it 'meddling' and 'collusive', but that would be the stuff of conspiracy theorists, right?

Dianne Feinstein's Return Is a Ghoulish Spectacle

By Sarah Jones, senior writer for Intelligencer

Photo: Leah Millis/REUTERS

Senator Dianne Feinstein of California returned to the Senate on Wednesday, weeks shy of her 90th birthday. For nearly three months, she has been absent, the result of a serious case of shingles. Even now she can only work part time, she said in a statement released by her office. In photos that must double as proof of life, she looks fragile, stooped over in a wheelchair. That can hardly be how she'd like to be remembered. Yet as her long career in politics draws to a close, the senator is demolishing whatever legacy she'd hoped to leave. She has become a ghoulis spectacle and a warning: The system she represents is in trouble.

Feinstein's fate condemns the very institutions to which she has dedicated herself. As Rebecca Traister noted in a 2022 profile, Feinstein participated enthusiastically in Supreme Court confirmation hearings for the conservative Amy Coney Barrett. "This is one of the best sets of hearings that I've participated in," she told Senator Lindsey Graham at the time, and added, "It leaves one with a lot of hopes, a lot of questions, and even some ideas, perhaps some good bipartisan legislation we can put together to make this great country even better. So thank you so much for your leadership." Months later, Barrett would cast a vote in favor of overturning Roe v. Wade. Though Feinstein cited Roe as a reason to oppose Barrett's nomination, and voted against confirming her to the Court, her chumminess with Graham was out of keeping with the moment. It was as if the stakes eluded Feinstein.

Much eludes Feinstein these days. But there are still traces of the politician she has always been. Feinstein is an Establishment Democrat to her core. She has dedicated her adult life to the system we have, and she believes that it works, ultimately, toward justice. The country "goes through different phases," she told Traister. "The institutions handling some of these issues have changed for the better. They've become more progressive, and I think that's important." A storm gathered, and Feinstein could not or would not see it. Whatever the case, she failed: Though she couldn't have stopped Barrett's ascension, she could have put up more of a fight. Why show someone like Graham an ounce of civility at all? Her long career might have sharpened her instincts. Instead, it seemingly desensitized her to danger. Her duty as a public servant was to sound the alarm, even if that was all she could do.

- Biden is fixated on getting men to stick their dick in other men's poop-holes: Louisiana Governor Vetoes Bill To Protect Children From Risky Transgender Surgery, Puberty Blockers

Feinstein leaves us now with no choice but to assume the worst about her motivations. Her failure to retire — and before that, her decision to run for reelection despite her advanced age — can be chalked up to arrogance. She believes the system works because it first worked for her. She climbed the ranks, achieved high office, and stayed there. Lifted to such a vantage, a person has two choices. They can look outward, survey the American landscape in its full, broken reality, and act in accordance with what they see. Or they can disappear into the same institutions that elevated them to power. Feinstein chose the latter. The climate activists she once ridiculed tried to get her to choose another path, but she did not listen. Here we stand, then, in the ruins of Feinstein's career, in what might also be the ruins of the American experiment itself.

Feinstein's fate is tragic. The woman in the wheelchair may remind us of our own grandmothers, nearing the end of their long and complicated lives. Her familiarity, however, should not blind us to the implications of her situation. The system is dysfunctional in part because of politicians like Feinstein: men and women who choose personal gratification over public service. Our norms and institutions are not working, at least not for anyone outside the Senate. They are due for transformations that might dismay Feinstein, who seems to believe they would evolve naturally over time.

Yet time itself is short. As the far right gathers strength, it threatens democracy, and our ruling gerontocracy has little to say. Feinstein is becoming a symbol of catastrophic personal failure, but the problem is widespread. Consider Senator Dick Durbin, a Democrat from Illinois, age 78. As the chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee, his response to Justice Clarence Thomas's almost-cartoonish levels of corruption has been to place his trust in Chief Justice John Roberts. "This is the Roberts Court," Durbin told CNN's Jake Tapper. "History is going to judge him by the decision he makes on this. He has the power to make the difference." History will judge Durbin and Feinstein and the rest of them, too.

"Where am I going?" Feinstein was heard asking on Wednesday. The same place as the rest of us, Senator. Right now, it's nowhere good.

- "No, I Wasn't, And I – No!": Biden Denies Involvement In Hunter's Business Dealings After New Message Emerges...
- New York Times 'Buries' The Lede, Confirms Hunter Biden Probe Whistleblower Claims...
- Darrell Issa: Joe Biden Using White House Counsel As His Personal Lawyer To Stonewall Media On Alleged Corruption...
- CBS News Report: IRS Whistleblower Says He Was Stopped From Pursuing Investigative Leads Into The "Big Guy"...
- Meet The US Attorney Who Allegedly Covered For Hunter Biden...
- Hunter Biden Moved Burisma Cash Through China, 2nd IRS Whistleblower Says...
- Trump: 'Crooked Joe Biden Is Compromised, Owned By China'...
- White House Omits Hunter Biden From Visitor Logs...
- Oversight Committee Reveals 2017 Hunter Biden Communications With CCP-Linked Energy Company...
- "The Bidens Are The Best I Know At Doing Exactly What The Chairman Wants"...
- Sen. Ron Johnson Calls For More Whistleblowers To Come Forward, Details 'Breathtaking' Corruption...
- Margot Cleveland: Hunter Biden Is Being Deposed On Thursday, Here's What He Should Be Asked Under Oath...

- "Nothing But Retaliation:" IRS Agent Details Adverse Career Impact After Blowing Whistle On Biden...
- U.S. Attorney David Weiss Defends 'Ultimate Authority' Over Hunter Biden Investigation...
- Judicial Watch Files FOIA Lawsuit For FBI Document Alleging Biden Took A Bribe From Burisma...
- Grassley, Johnson Demand Answers After FBI Said Hunter Biden Probe Advanced Russian Disinformation...
- Hunter Biden Lawyer Denies Joe Biden Was With Hunter In WhatsApp Text, Attacks IRS Whistleblowers In Letter To Ways And Means Chairman...
- Hunter Biden's Former Business Partner Was Willing To Go Before A Grand Jury...He Never Got The Chance...