

So I'm divorced and I decided to check out the online dating sites. What a sewer! \(whatever\)

by freedomeagle

First off these sites try to get you to list your job and income. That's really what I want, a bunch of money grubbing whores coming after me! Then after refusing to provide almost any info I got to see the matches (match was the only site that let me complete my profile without any info or a pic). The very first match I saw was a woman who was "never married" but had "kids who lived at home". I knew the kids had to be black, and clicking to the second profile pic there it was! She was holding a niglet! So I looked at a few more, fats, drunks, fat drunks, probably all have seen more dicks than a urologist. Oh well, guess the life of a monk is the life for me.

Online dating is for whores. Go to church if you want to find virtuous women

My exwife was very religious, as we were divorcing she explained to me how she used the bible to rationalize having an affair and lying to me about it. She says other women she would meet with from church would indirectly give her advice about it through selected verses. All women are whores, except my mother of course.

What kind of fucked up faggot church did you go to? I'd be telling the pastor about that kind of shit, if he's any kind of man of God, he'll be cleaning house of the whores. Church whores are the worst whores I've found.

Apostle Paul talked about staying away from them if you could. If you couldn't it was best to get married so you didn't burn in hell for sinning with them, but if you could resist to stay single. WTF? Right? lol

This is why in actual Christianity (for those that read the whole Bible and not just selected scriptures which have been cherry-picked) it is clear that women should not interpret scripture nor even speak at all in church.

Remember: Eve was deceived first. Then Adam sinned because he was more interested in pleasing woman than pleasing God.

The woman I'm with now is extremely religious and it's why I'm about to leave her. This woman spends 4-5 hours a day listening to evangelical broadcasts on her fucking iphone. She preaches nonstop and like every other goddamned christian I've ever known she is the biggest fucking hypocrite you can imagine.

In any case, all I will say is that a woman who puts more passion into god than she does into the bedroom is fucking worthless.

Christians are commanded to love God with all their heart, mind and soul. A husband would come next. And if you are not a Christian, she shouldn't be dating you or married to you, unless she converted after marriage. But I also understand the weariness you feel from her non-stop preaching. She (and most wives) would be better off living the life and leave your conversion to God.

Over time, dating sites fill up with single moms with mixed race kids.

Any single mom with a Black Kid (of Half Black especially) NEVER will get married to a man with a job.

It never happens. Even Black men flee from half-black kids of their own creation nearly always.

Science : Black Fathers worst on earth!

Astoundingly, nearly 92% of Black men eventually flee from biracial kids they themselves create!!! 92% Study from the CDC :

archived in case shoahed : <http://archive.is/TzDjR> original : <http://clutchmagonline.com/2015/10/study-claims-92-of-biracial-children-with-black-dads-are-born-out-of-wedlock/>

Countless Sociology papers provoked creation of a recent documentary by the Black community, that Black men flee their kids, even if THE MOTHER IS BLACK. 72% if black mother :

Refer to :

<http://blackcommunitynews.com/72-percent-documentary-on-fatherless-black-children/>

archived in case shoahed : <http://archive.is/vDDPd>

And 98% of mixed race kids get NO MONEY SUPPORT from black fathers EVER !:

DOI: 10.2139/ssrn.2625893

Ninety Two Percent: Examining the Birth Trends, Family Structure, Economic Standing, Paternal Relationships, and Emotional Stability of Biracial Children with African American Fathers ref "Table 6" of that 2015 Science paper :

<https://docdro.id/YLByGx9>

Except in EVERY television commercial, the worst fathers on earth are scientifically proven to be black as shown above.

A mixed race baby is never ever going to have a father and especially not a non-black father because no white man wants to be seen in public in a role that looks like he was "cuckolded" :

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cuckold>

Women are delusional. A black thug spawn from Da'Trayvon knocks a white woman 7 full points out of 10 in dating value for long term commitment from a man with a job.

92% of Black men eventually flee from their own biracial kids

Though liberals hate science facts, Black fathers are no father at all.

Provably disgusting animals spreading their seed. Hundreds of years ago, few niglets would survive, but in white society we feed and raise and breed more of them!

Yep the problem is with a mixed race child, the man can't pretend its his own in day to day activities. He automatically becomes a laughing stock / figure of derision, because everyone instantly knows the child isn't his. If hes raising another mans child but its the same colour, he can at least find SOME solace in people not immediately knowing.

This is likely the reason your results are trash. I met my gf on okcupid and we both had spent hours answering questions, that's how I knew we were similar. All her answers were conservative, all mine were conservative, I only matched with non moms, people with less than 5 sexual partners, etc.

The reason you are getting trash results is because you're being matched with other like minded people who are lazy as fuck and wont fill out a profile. Like a niggers mom.

Dating sites are the worst place for men to find women. Yes there is a buffet of ladies but unless your looks are in the top 5% and you're earning in the top 2%, you have to select from the bottom 20%.

Join an exercise group and socialize a bit. Something like crossfit where you get a mix of men and women of varying competences and builds. Approach and speak to girls face to face, be a man and you'll probably be more successful. Failing that at least you can still live your monk life but you get fit as well.

Your appearance and stats (job, money, height, drug preferences, etc.) aside (as if it is hard enough to convince a woman to like your profile), the dating websites have become a barren wasteland for a multitude of reasons, the most significant of which are serious controls that swing the balance of power away from men and towards women. All of these sites were previously egalitarian and setup in a way that allowed you, as a man, to properly attract a woman through the gift of gab. You could message who you wanted, any length, any frequency, any content (suggestive or not). Well, thanks to the thirst of beta men, women were receiving far too many messages, too many of which went beyond the level of their comfort. As a result, these companies went super aggressive and super SJW in controlling this, as well as penalizing masculine men who knew how to get dates and bed women from these sites.

The first thing they did, which OKCupid did silently for years but eventually admitted to doing, was to control which users you saw in your search results. The controls were based on how the opposite gender rated your profile (read: pictures). If you were getting high ratings (i.e. lots of "YES"s), you would see high rated women (and everyone lower of course). If you were rated lower, you would not be able to see those higher rated women. And of course, men just rate every damn woman a "yes" due to shotgun theory (the idea that you will at least hit a target with a bunch of bullets as opposed to a single fine tuned shot). Might as well rate everyone "yes" in the hopes that someone rates you "yes". This is how Tinder operates for men - just swipe YES on every girl. The controls that the sites eventually implemented completely go against female biology. Men judge women on looks. Women, sure, they like a good looking guy, but the most successful men aren't the best looking, they are the ones with the most social status (even fat & ugly Jonah Hill is gettin girls because he has social status). Eventually other sites picked up on this idea and implemented it.

The second thing they did was restrict who and how much you could send to a girl. Used to be you could send unlimited messages to anyone you wanted. Yeah, OKCupid prevented people from showing in your searches, but you could at least create a fake "hot" profile, get the likes so you could see those girls, get the link to their profile and message them under your normal profile. Now? Not so much. True, if you dont get a response after 1 message, you are unlikely to get one after 10. But in this age of constant barrage of attention grabbing apps, one message usually isn't enough. And now, the apps restrict how many messages girls can receive. If they have maxed out their inbox, they can't receive more - and they will let you know you can't send them a message.

Another thing they did was allow message restrictions - controls that prevent messages from users based on shit in your profile. Plenty of Fish did this. You would try to message a girl and get rejected for the reason that something in her profile settings prevents you from messaging her. It wouldn't tell you explicitly what was preventing it, you just had to look at her profile for what she was looking for in a date. In most cases it was an age restriction, but the system allowed you to prevent messages on the basis of anything. God forbid we allow the natural attraction of 18-20 year old women with 30+ year old men. We must force 30 year old men to date the undesirable 30+ year old women.

The biggest dagger into the dating apps that really killed them was to completely put the burden of control in the hands of women with regards to messaging. OKCupid followed Bumble's lead - the idea that the first message could only be from a girl. Men can't message first. You can match to your heart's content, but you can't talk to any girl unless they talk to you first. This completely goes against biology - women want men to chase and open them up. Problem with this idea is that women are 1) not natural chasers, and 2) not good at messaging first. The funny thing is that women expect men to have an elaborate first message (on Tinder), but when it comes to women's first message? ROFL!!!! All they send is "hi".

All of these things make men disgruntled. What do disgruntled men do? They just get up, walk and leave and don't come back.

(Disgruntled women, on the other hand, will complain and make noise). What happens when all the quality men leave a dating app? The women get disgruntled for lack of choice (since they are in control). All the quality women then leave, and you are just left with what you see...the bottom of the barrel.

This happened with PlentyOfFish (I missed the boat on this one, but this apparently was a paradise for getting laid), it happened with Match.com, OKCupid (this one was great for hooking up), Badoo, CoffeeMeetsBagel. It will happen to Tinder too, if it hasn't already.

The long story short is that online dating is a shell of what it once was. All that is left is Tinder, a site that accepts human biology - the idea that people are just on these apps to get laid. Problem is that they want their cut of the money too so they put in their money making features, which suck. Then, of course, is that the app is riddled with women who think Tinder is for dating and have no desire whatsoever to use it for what it was intended (getting laid).

Frankly, the best way to find a woman is in person. Just go out for a walk, strike up a conversation, go from there.

[\[-\] soliddrink](#) 1 points (+1 | -0) 2.5 hours ago (edited 2.5 hours ago)

Comes from an expert who used them all...and...eventually met his wife from it. :D

I got lucky. My wife was getting tired of the service. She was going to quit OKCupid the next day (this was still the time you could message any girl without matching first) and for some reason she picked my message. It was completely random (she didnt look at my profile before responding - she later admitted she thought my pictures were complete shit, and only went out with me because I was asking her out for lunch as opposed to all the other guys who asked her out for drinks...and also to practice English. She was an au pair studying English).

When it comes to online dating at this point in time, your best bet is to target immigrants since they haven't been poisoned by our dating culture yet. It is a sad state of affairs, but it is the reality. Even if you find an attractive woman she will probably have a shit personality...or have a high N count.

Get a job in healthcare (if you can). 90% women (yet oddly you won't find any protests for more men in healthcare). Anyway, caring for others is one of the few exceptions where I think it's ok for women to work. Most of the positions pay slightly better than fast food and you can build an actual career. Healthcare is everywhere, so you can move around the country if needed.

A lot of woman work in healthcare because they want to meet doctors, which almost never happens. What you get is a bunch of desperate slowly aging women who slowly realize that landing a doctor ain't going to happen and since there are almost no other men working there, they take what they can get. So yeah, if you want to find a woman who possibly has an education, stability to hold down a job, and might even come in handy when it comes time to care for children, get a job in healthcare.

I don't know about that, but they'll definitely bitch endlessly about their co-workers as most all of their co-workers are women and women don't have higher cognitive abilities and so spend much of their time bitching about other woman as opposed to improving themselves in anyway.

A lot more than nurses work in healthcare though. Healthcare has billing, HR, reception, administration, finance and many, many other positions filled with young pretty single women hoping they might be able to land a doctor (who many of which are now women as well).

P.S. Avoid women doctors, always use a male doctor. Trust me, they had to work twice as hard to earn their degree.

Title HereImgur Album Get a d0g and tag like this or similar. Let your d0g out to run each day and then wait. If you get a call from a kind hot helpful woman then reward d0g if not d0g kennel. Usually 20 mins and there's someone blowing up my phone. Depending on where you live.. Small town SD this works well, remember to save their phone numbers so you can thank them later. xD Blue Eyed Husky enjoys running with runners. Title HereImgur Album

Put MGTOW (men going their own way) in a search engine, you might find it interesting. If I had it to do again I'd get chemically castrated and join a fishing club. You generally don't get into much trouble fishing and you get to keep the other half your shit.

Find a passable tranny girlfriend. She'll do pretty much anything for you. They love to play traditional housewife and wait on their boyfriends. She'll suck your dick multiple times a day and be grateful rather than annoyed if you cum in her mouth or on her face. She'll always be down for sex and you never have to worry about "shark week." Best of all, endless amounts of anal. Ass is way better than pussy.

You are not going to met decent women online. Join a local social group (church, gaming, whatever) and go from there.

Fats, drunks, ugly as hell, bodies ruined by large tattoos, nose-ringed bitches, single-moms, drug addicts, 30+ y.o."students", etc. That's Tinder in Germany :D

Where do you live?

A cheap flight to colombia cartagena is like 200$ and you can get to pick any hot broad down there...hell its too easy if you go anywhere outside a western country. Anywhere really i have read Brazilian chicks are the ones chasing you in certain cities...i def need to travel there next.

No. No non-whites except east Asians, and even then you have to more than double your offspring count to offset the genetic washout. Mestizos are usually less than 50% white, and that's if you ignore the the Arabization that took place before the reconquista

Who says you marry them? You go to forget about your womyn troubles in the USA and feel like a fucking king doing it.

Trouble is too many men like it too much and never get a white wife afterwards....but getting experience talkingg to women and seeing that they aren't all that will help you find a good woman in western countries. I suppose practice makes better, just dont marry anyone

Put an ad on Craigslist as a sperm donor for spinsters. You can have 10 white baybays and get your combat training done, which is way more important.

Anything that involves speaking to a female at any length is out of the question in my book, other than "how much?" and that type of thing. lol

The way it's supposed to be is your parents find you a wife when you're 16 or so, she shits out a few kids, you divorce or not and if you do, from 40 on you get to do your thing, have a 20 year old girlfriend, etc. If you don't divorce, you basically drive her to church and stay out of each other's way until you both croak.

No female is really good to talk to, if you're lucky, she'll do the chores to free you up and she won't be a total bitch about it. The most important thing about a woman is does she mind cooking and cleaning and keeping the house. If she won't, nothing else about her makes up for it.

The biggest mistake most men make is having unrealistic expectations. It sucks under the best conditions, it's not supposed to be fun, it never was.
